

Singularity™ Platform

One Platform. Limitless Security.

Organizations face a massive cybersecurity challenge in the form of addressing threats across different attack surfaces. This forces analysts to process siloed data and manually investigate without full visibility and context. To better protect themselves from adversaries, security teams need a comprehensive solution to detect and respond to threats.

The SentinelOne Singularity Platform simplifies modern endpoint, cloud, and identity security through one platform. Augmented by open integrations with leading best-of-breed security vendors, organizations can efficiently ingest and centralize all their security data while delivering autonomous prevention, detection, and response at machine speed across multiple attack surfaces.

Singularity Endpoint

Singularity Endpoint is a best-in-class, customizable EPP+EDR solution, purpose-built to accelerate investigations and reduce response times.

By reconstructing threats from start to finish with patented Storyline™ technology, you can quickly achieve a greater understanding of the threats your enterprise faces, and remediate or rollback incidents with just one click.

Singularity Cloud

Singularity Cloud Workload Security offers real-time threat detection and response for workloads on servers, VMs, containers, and Kubernetes clusters across public and private clouds. Acting as your Workload Flight Data Recorder™, achieve complete OS-level visibility, investigate incidents, and proactively hunt threats within our Security DataLake.

Singularity Identity
